REVIEW ENGAGEMENT REPORT

To the Members of Kelowna Family Services Centre Society

I have reviewed the statement of financial position of Kelowna Family Services Centre Society as at March 31, 2016, and the statements of operations, changes in net assets, and cash flows for the year then ended. My review was made in accordance with Canadian generally accepted standards for review engagements and accordingly consisted primarily of enquiry, analytical procedures, and discussion of information supplied to me by the organization.

A review does not constitute an audit and consequently I do not express an audit opinion on these financial statements.

In common with many not for profit organizations, the Society derives revenue from donations. It is impractical to obtain satisfactory information on the completeness of these revenues. Accordingly, my review of these revenues was limited to the amounts recorded in the records of the Society and I was not able to determine whether any adjustments might be necessary to assets, revenues and excess of revenue over expenses, and and net assets.

Except as described in the preceding paragraph, nothing has come to my attention that causes me to believe that these financial statements are not, in all material respects, in accordance with Canadian accounting standards for not-for-profit organizations.

As required by the British Columbia Society Act, I report that, in my opinion, these standards have been applied on a basis consistent with that of the preceding year.

March 31, 2016

1. ACCOUNTING POLICIES

These financial statements were prepared in accordance with Canadian accounting standards for not-for-profit organizations and include the following significant accounting policies:

- a) Financial assets and liabilities are measured initially at fair value. Changes in fair value are recognized in net income.
  - Financial assets measured at amortized cost consist of cash, accounts receivable, prepaid expenses, and restricted cash.
  - Financial liabilities measured at amortized cost consist of accounts payable, payroll liabilities, and deferred revenue.
- b) When preparing financial statements according to Canadian generally accepted accounting principles, the society makes estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of revenues and expenses during the year, the reported amounts of assets and liabilities at the date of the financial statements, and the disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities at the date of the financial statements. The society bases its assumptions on a number of factors including historical experience, current events, actions that the society may undertake in the future, and other assumptions believed reasonable under the circumstances. Material measurement uncertainties include estimates of useful lives of tangible capital assets and estimates of collectability of accounts receivable. Actual results could differ from the estimates. The resolution of these uncertainties will be determined by future events.
- c) Cash and cash equivalents include amounts on deposit with financial institutions and term deposits that mature within three months from the date of acquisition. Cash and cash equivalents exclude term deposits that are unavailable for current use because they are internally restricted.
- d) Purchased tangible capital assets are recorded at cost. Contributed tangible capital assets are recorded at fair value at the date of contribution. Amortization is recorded at the following rates, which have been established by estimates of useful lives. Additions during the current year are amortized at one-half their normal rates, and no amortization is taken in the year of disposition. Amortization expense is reported in the Capital Asset Fund.

Computer hardware 30% declining balance Furniture and equipment 20% declining balance Leasehold improvements 20% straight line

- e) The society earns substantially all of its revenue from the provision of counselling and education services and related grants, donations, and fundraising. Counselling and education revenues and related provincial grants are recognized at the time the service is provided. Revenue from donations, fundraising, and other grants is recognized when it is received.
- f) The organization does not record in its books of account the value of contributed materials and services.

g) The society recognizes restricted contributions and grants in accordance with the restricted fund method.

The General Fund accounts for the society's program delivery and administrative activities. This fund reports unrestricted resources and restricted operating grants.

The Internally Restricted Fund reports only resources that have been internally designated for specific purposes or programs.

The Capital Asset Fund reports the assets, liabilities, revenues and expenses related to the society's capital assets.

The Externally Restricted Fund reports only resources that have been externally restricted by the donor for specific purposes or programs and that are not restricted operating grants.

2. PURPOSE OF THE NOT-FOR-PROFIT ORGANIZATION AND ECONOMIC DEPENDENCY

The society is incorporated without share capital under the Society Act of British Columbia. The primary objectives of the Society are to provide opportunity for consultation, counselling, guidance, and assistance to families and individuals in need in the Central Okanagan. The society also promotes, sponsors, and conducts research and educational programs to facilitate prevention and resolution of some of the complex problems which confront families and individuals in the community. The society is a charitable organization registered under the Canadian Income Tax Act and as such is exempt from income taxes and is able to issue donation receipts for income tax purposes. In order to maintain its status as a registered charity under the Act, the society must meet certain requirements within the Act. In the opinion of management, these requirements have been met. A significant majority of the society's revenue is derived from government funding and other grants that need to be applied for annually. All government funding and other grants have been renewed through the 2017 fiscal year.

3. FINANCIAL INSTRUMENTS

The organization is exposed to various risks through its financial instruments. Financial instruments consist of cash, accounts receivable, and accounts payable. Unless otherwise noted, it is management's opinion that there are no significant credit, currency, interest rate, liquidity, or market risks arising from these financial instruments. The fair value of the instruments approximates their carrying values, unless otherwise noted.

4. RESTRICTED CASH AND INTERNALLY RESTRICTED NET ASSETS

The society has funds internally restricted for a future purpose. These internally restricted amounts are not available for unrestricted purposes without the prior approval of the board of directors. At March 31, 2016, the society held a total of $38,100 in internally restricted net assets ($41,561 at March 31, 2015). During the fiscal year $3,461 was transferred from internally restricted funds to the general fund (2015 - $12,784). These restricted funds are invested in term deposits that will be held until maturity.
